So she munched the cookies and watched the clock, as the gutsy thief diminished her stock. She was getting more irritated as the minutes ticked by, thinking. If I wasn't so nice, I would	L-3	CO5	10

		blacken his eye. With each cookie she took, he took one too. When only one was left, she wondered what he would do. With a smile on his face and a nervous laugh, he took the last cookie and broke it in half. He offered her half, as he ate the other. She had never known she could be so angry and turned to gather her belongings. As she reached for her baggage, she gasped with surprise, there was her bag of cookies, in front of her eyes. If mine are here, she moaned in despair, the others were his and he was trying to share.

	b.	i) Summarize the following passage with title (100 words); ii)Read the paragraph and answer the questions that follow: Dolphins are regarded as the friendliest creatures in the sea and stories of them helping drowning sailors have been common since Roman times. The more we learn about dolphins, the more we realize that their society is more complex than people previously imagined. They look after other dolphins when they are ill, care for pregnant mothers and protect the weakest in the community, as we do. Some scientists have suggested that dolphins have a language but it is much more probable that they communicate with each other without needing words. Could any of these mammals be more intelligent than man? Certainly the most common argument in favor of man's superiority over them that we can kill them more easily than they can kill us is the least satisfactory. On the contrary, the more we discover about these remarkable creatures, the less we appear superior when we destroy them. 1. It is clear from the passage that dolphins ----. i. don't want to be with us as much as we want to be with them ii. are proven to be less intelligent than once thought iii. have a reputation for being friendly to humans iv. are the most powerful creatures that live in the oceans v. are capable of learning a language and communicating with humans 2. The fact that the writer of the passage thinks that we can kill dolphins more easily than they can kill us ----. i. means that they are better adapted to their	L-3	CO5	10 environment than we are ii. shows that dolphins have a very sophisticated form of communication iii. proves that dolphins are not the most intelligent species at sea iv. does not mean that we are superior to them v. proves that Dolphins have linguistic skills far beyond what we previously thought 3. One can infer from the reading that ----. i. dolphins are quite abundant in some areas of the world ii. communication is the most fascinating aspect of the dolphins iii. dolphins have skills that no other living creatures have such as the ability to think iv. it is not usual for dolphins to communicate with each other v. dolphins have some social traits that are similar to those of humans
